FROM THE PRINCIPAL

MR DAMIAN MESSER

“There is no end to education. It is not that you read a book, pass an examination, and finish with education. The whole of life, from the moment you are born to the moment you die, is a process of learning.

Jiddu Krishnamurti

The Rhythm of a School

It is only Week 2 of term and there is no shortage of energy being expended by our boys and their teachers as they go about the business of learning and teaching in classrooms, on camps, on the sporting fields and on stage. St Virgil’s is first and foremost a Catholic school and I take great heart from the fact that our students are endeavouring to use their God given talents to the best of their abilities. We are blessed that they can do this through being immersed within the charism of Blessed Edmund Rice which calls each boy to stand in solidarity with others, work for justice and peace and through striving for personal excellence experience an education that is liberating, life giving and life shaping.

Schools have a natural rhythm which is seen in every day classes as well as in events such as exams, testing and graduations. In returning to the College after nearly three months away, I feel myself being energised by this rhythm. I also find myself continually reflecting upon the Boys’ Education Conference that I had the good fortune to attend in the United States during my period of enrichment leave. It was a great privilege to be amongst outstanding educators from all parts of the world and to have the opportunity to learn from some of the leaders in the field of boys’ education.

I was particularly taken by the work of Reichert, M. & Hawley, R. (2013), For Whom the Boy Toils. Their research project was based around the primacy of relationships in boys’ learning and provides an inventory for best practices around the keys to ‘reaching boys’ and ‘teaching boys’. Relationships are the key!

This is our core business at St Virgil’s College – the development of nurturing, respectful and inspiring relationships that mirror those modelled by Jesus of the Gospels and which inspired Blessed Edmund to establish his first school in 1802. Sometimes it is spectacular like our champion athletes in Launceston, sometimes it is stunning like being with our boys on camp, sometimes it is moving like our performers preparing for Gala Concert, but most significantly it is ever-present within our Catholic learning community. As we approach events such as exams, fairs, camps, concerts and graduations we must never take for granted the primacy of relationships that inspire and shape boys’ learning and we will continue to work on these relationships each and every day. We are all blessed to be in the ‘business of education’!

Grade 10 Examinations
The Grade 10 final Exams will be held from November 18 to 21. These are the culmination of the year of study for our Grade 10s and are a significant part of each student’s assessment. The boys are working hard in class in preparation and will be provided with a study guide outlining all requirements in the coming week.

The timeline for the exam week is an attachment to The Star - http://www.stvirgils.tas.edu.au/news-publications/

As we are three weeks out from the beginning of these exams, it is important that the boys start to formulate a timetable for revision and study. This timetable is an important part of the boys’ preparation as it helps them manage their time and prioritise the importance of preparation. I encourage you to support your son where you can, especially with his sleep and dietary intake in the lead up to these examinations.

NAPLAN
NAPLAN results were posted to the parents of all Grade 3, 5, 7 and 9 students last week. I trust parents of students in these Grade levels received results and other explanatory information. I have re-produced below the outstanding article written by Director of Learning and Teaching Miss Heidi Gregg last year which puts NAPLAN (and some of the hype that surrounds it), into perspective.

On a practical level for schools like St Virgil’s, the data is very useful. By looking at the results for a whole grade, we are able to identify particular areas of strength and weakness, right down to very specific things such as knowing how to turn words into plurals. This means, that by studying the data, the teaching teams around the school can plan programmes that will best support our students and their particular needs.

We can tailor our literacy and numeracy programmes to suit the students we are teaching. In addition to this, by tracking the data from year to year, we can judge the success of these programmes. We can measure improvements from Grade 7 to Grade 9. And, if there have not been improvements, we can get to work on figuring out why, and putting strategies in place to address the gaps.

For your son in particular, his personal NAPLAN result can serve as an indicator of how he is performing in literacy and numeracy. However it is very important that the data be considered in context. Parents should avoid judging their son's overall progress and achievement purely on the results of one test conducted six months earlier. If you have a concern about your son’s result, the next step should be to contact your son’s teachers to see if those concerns are evident in his ongoing performance in the classroom.

If this is the case, then you can work together with your son’s teachers to conduct further diagnostic assessment or provide support or targeted intervention to address the particular areas that need improvement. If this is not the case however, it is quite possible that the NAPLAN result your son received has been influenced by some other phenomenon - perhaps the testing conditions were stressful, perhaps he was ill or tired, perhaps he was feeling irritable that day and did not give the test his full attention and effort. All of these things can significantly affect the outcome of a test such as NAPLAN.

NAPLAN is a highly valuable tool for individuals and schools, but it is also complex and is only one indicator of the holistic education provided to boys at the College. There is much to read about it, and many opinions about it. If you have any questions, or would like further information please do not hesitate to contact Miss Gregg via email at hgregg@stvirgils.tas.edu.au

Show Day Holiday
A reminder to all parents and students that this week, due to Show Day, school will conclude on Wednesday afternoon October 23 and will recommence on Monday October 28.

Gala Concert
Preparations are underway for the Gala Concert which is being held on Friday November 8, 7pm at the Nagle Centre at St Mary’s College. Tickets are available by logging on to www.easybookings.com.au

I encourage all members of our community to purchase a ticket for what promises to be a magnificent showcase of the talents of our students in music, performing art and creative arts.

Austins Ferry Fair
Plans for the annual Austins Ferry Twilight Fair continue to progress, indicating another fantastic community event for the College. The Fair will be held at Austins Ferry on Monday November 11, commencing at 5pm. Attendance at the Fair is compulsory for all secondary students. More details will be available in coming issues of The Star.

Grade 6 Thanksgiving Service
Please be advised that due to a clash with the St Mary’s College prize giving and the number of parents that have girls involved in this important event, we have re-scheduled the Grade 6 end of year Thanksgiving Service to Wednesday December 18. I apologise for the late notice and ask you to note the evening in your diary.

Website
We have been delighted to receive some very positive feedback about our re-launched website. Parents are encouraged to visit it regularly to use facilities such as the Outlook compatible calendar, absence notification system and on-line ordering facility for the Uniform Shop and Canteen. Please visit www.stvirgils.tas.edu.au – it is now also compatible with your tablet or smartphone.
Grade 7 2014 Orientation Day
Just a reminder to all Grade 6 parents and students that the Orientation Day for Grade 7 2014 will be held at the Austins Ferry campus on Saturday November 2 from 9.00am to 12 noon. It is essential that all boys and a parent attend this important transition experience as important information will be disseminated.

In the spirit of Blessed Edmund.

Damian Messer

DEPUTY PRINCIPAL
MR TERRY BLIZZARD

I would like to congratulate those Grade Nine boys who have taken up the challenge to apply for College Captain for 2014. The process requires boys to reflect deeply on their time at the College so far and importantly their remaining time and what they can contribute to the College.

In introducing the election process this week I spoke to the boys about the notion of leadership and "standing up and being counted". It reminds of the tale told of a soldier, who, in the heat of a bloody battle, broke and ran away from the fighting. After stumbling several miles he was stopped in his tracks by a commanding figure. Supposing the figure to be the Sergeant Major, the soldier stammered 'I'm sorry Sarg, I just couldn’t take it'. The outraged figure responded 'I'm not the Sergeant Major, I'm the Major General', to which the astonished soldier replied 'good grief, I didn’t know I had run that far!'

Sometimes standing up and being counted is the hardest part for young men who aspire to be leaders.

Applications are due in by lunchtime on Monday. Good luck to all applicants.

A reminder that next Wednesday October 30 the Co-Curricular photos for 2014 will be taken. List of times and the various groups will be published in Pastoral Care rooms and boys are asked to note times and details in their diaries. This will be a formal uniform day so those boys who will be having a sports photo taken need to bring their sports uniform to change into.

Austins Ferry Fair – Plain Clothes Days
My thanks to all boys for their support of the two Free Dress days held to assist the College Fair. The books/DVD/computer-games day was generously supported and will add greatly to the offerings of the Fair. Next Tuesday is the third of the Free Dress Days and we ask the boys to bring along wrapped lollies, chocolates freddos, matchbox cars, hair clips, lolly pops, rubbers, decorated pens, pencils for example for inclusion in the ever-popular ‘Lucky Boxes’.

Grand Theft Auto V
What’s it like to torture someone? Last month, Rockstar Games released the “dazzling but monstrous” video game Grand Theft Auto V and within three days raked in $1 billion dollars in sales!

The game, like earlier titles in the series, is awash in murder, mayhem, and misogynist sex. Yes, that’s bad enough. But Grand Theft Auto V breaks new ground by forcing players to participate in a virtual torture scene.

There's no choice, no way around it. To advance in gameplay, the person behind the controls must become a sadistic torturer. Reviewers describe the torture scene as “lurid,” “gruesome,” and “so troubling that I had difficulty playing it.”

Parents are encouraged to discuss the nature of such games with their sons but it is worth noting the comments of the College’s ICT Integrator Mr Deon Scanlon: “I would say that many boys have played this game. Games of this type do have a negative impact on compassion and empathy in people. Ignoring the rhetoric of this article, it is of pretty high concern”.

JUNIOR SCHOOL

Southern Tasmanian Primary school Basketball Championships
Last weekend a team of ten Grade 5 and 6 boys represented the Junior School at these championships. With little time to ‘gel’ as a team, the boys performed admirably under the guidance of Coach Michael Moschogianis and Manager Melinda Roach. The team consisted of: Tom Kemp, Tyler McGinnis, Nicholas O’Connell, Sam Collins, Will Collins, Felix Kinghorn-Lewis, Koby Moschogianis, Tyler Penwright, Liam Roach and Jamahl Veneable who were selected at trials by basketballer, Anthony Stewart.

Competition started on Friday evening and went through to Sunday afternoon. The boys came second in their pool which put them into the play offs. Unfortunately they were narrowly defeated by Sacred Heart and finished up fourth overall in Grade 5/6 Division 1. Well done to all the boys on a great performance.

Grade 4 Camp to Gum Leaves
At the time of going to press, the Grade 4 boys are enjoying their annual camp at Maria Island. We will share their adventures with you next week.

Term 4 Uniform
As we are coming into the warmer months, boys can start wearing their Summer Uniform from the commencement of Term 4. All families are reminded that the full and correct wearing of the uniform is an important part of being a student at St Virgil’s. Some boys have been a little lax in their compliance in regards to their uniform items often not being worn like caps and jumpers. All boys will need to ensure that they have their bucket hats ready for next term also. If you have uniform needs, please contact Mrs Leon in the Office.

UTAS Pre-Service Teacher
It was remiss in last week’s Star not to welcome Ms Emma Corbett to the Junior School campus. Emma is a fourth year pre-service teacher who will be spending the next few weeks in Grade 5 with Mrs Ogle. Welcome Emma.

Australian Mathematics Competition
Last term, a selected group of 22 boys participated in the Australian Mathematics Competition. This competition is quite challenging with entrants coming from many parts outside Australia as well.

Hobart City Council Children’s Week Celebrations
Tuesday of this week saw Hobart City Council commemorate Children’s Week. Nicholas O’Connell and Alexander Fracalossi accompanied Mr Pinelli to a reception at the Town Hall. After a delicious morning tea we were given a tour of the Town Hall and its accompanying facilities. Part of the morning was a re-enactment of a Council meeting and its processes. Nicholas was given the opportunity to sit in the Lord Mayor’s chair – something he really enjoyed.

The teachers are providing revision activities in the coming weeks, and are more than happy to respond to any queries you or your son may have about the exams.

End of Year and iPads
For those who are not sure of procedures for the end of year and iPads, Grade 3 to Grade 9 students will be required to leave their iPads for storage at school over the Christmas holiday break. Students will need to hand in their iPad in their slipcase, the charger and the charging cable. Any missing items will be charged to your account, and damaged iPads will be sent away for repair. Students will receive the same iPad on their return in 2014. Grade 10 students will receive separate information in a letter in the coming week.

Game On! Or Game Off?
Did you know that the age of the average gamer in Australia is 32 years old? If you think about it, that has some pretty important implications when thinking about computer games that are available for purchase. Games aren’t just made for children. Just like DVDs have ratings which make certain titles unsuitable for children, games also have a similar rating. I encourage you to think very carefully about what games your children are playing and how appropriate they are. Some games defy even the rating they’re given.

Br Peter Flint recently sent me a link to an article (http://tiny.cc/h2lc5w) which describes a torture scene in Grand Theft Auto V (GTA5). This scene is presented as part of the gameplay and players must play the scene in order to progress through the game. Now, GTA5 is rated as R in Australia and thus is definitely not suitable for anyone of school age but even still, it’s hard to see how torture scenes are justifiable as entertainment in any circumstances. The vast majority of games are enjoyable and reasonably safe, but it does pay to be aware of potentially inappropriate themes that are being explored in the games your children are playing.

A WEEK IN THE LIFE OF THE COLLEGE

Each week boys at St Virgil’s College are involved in a wide range of exciting curricular and co-curricular experiences.
These experiences provide a rich source of learning, fun and personal growth – here is just a snapshot of these activities, captured through the lens of Br Peter Flint and Mr Andrew Pinelli.
